Reports That Liner Was to Be Sunk May Prove Before Public.

Special to the New York Times.
WASHINGTON, May 4.—The news that the Lusitania had been sunk today was received here with a shock that has not been known since the sinking of the Titanic. The news came, like Washington news, and spread as it is known and the shock of the sinking. The early morning news that the liner had been sunk at sea, was the first that reached the city. The news came at a time when the city was in a state of excitement and the people were waiting for news of the sinking of the liner.
